Next Monday the Hamlin Public Schools will hold an open house in observance of the 14th annual Texas Public School Week. The teachers and the students have been working hard for some time now in an effort to make the evening one that will be worth the public's time.

If their work in the past is any indication of what they are doing this year it will be an impressive evening.

But I am afraid if all mother and dad do is to go up to the school and look at a little bit of their son's or daughter's work then go home and forget it for another year it will just be a lot of wasted time on the part of the teachers and students.

Education in this nation is at a crossroads today. A great effort is being made to come up with an educational program that will supply the scientists, engineers and other top people we will need in the coming years. But while this is necessary it only takes care of about a third of our pupils. What do you do with the student who do not have the mental ability to become engineers, scientists or professional people.

A good deal of improvement needs to be made in the opportunities that we offer to the middle group of students in any graduating class, but even more needs to be done for the lower third and those that don't ever make it to graduation.

Every year it gets harder on the kids who fail to get a high school diploma. And even a high school diploma fails to offer much hope for a secure future to those who do not have an opportunity to continue their education beyond this level or do not have a chance to learn some type of skill.

Ben Neidecken, Anson attorney, speaking before the Hamlin Lions Club the other day on juvenile delinquency pointed out that the biggest danger of your dropouts is that they stay in the community while most of those who graduate go some where else to find their futures. This process has a lowering effect on the community and continues to increase the local welfare load.

A program of Distributive Education is being tried in many schools. This is a system whereby students who elect to take this route go to school a half day and work the other half in some trade or profession, getting school credit for their work.

The biggest problem with this is that it does not give the student a high school diploma that will get him into college if he were to decide later that he can and wants to go.

It also deprives the student of most of the extra curricular activities of the school that are part of the educational program.

Some system needs to be worked out whereby the student can get a high diploma and then attend some form of technical school.

It is obvious that Hamlin can not offer a school of this type alone because of the limited number of students therefore it would have to be on a county-wide or area-wide basis.

So when you go to school Monday and look over what your child has been doing try looking ahead and see what kind of a future you are going to offer him or her the day they finish high school.

Remembering that the experts predict that there will be more progress made in the scientific fields during the next ten years than has been made in the past 60 years.

March 4 Final Date to Release Cotton Acreage

March 4 is the final date to release cotton acreage to maintain a farm's history. All members of ratings in the Brownwood Coliseum at 7:30 Friday evening, The Houstonians, the stage band from Sam Houston State College presented a program.

Rowland explained that cotton allotment remained with the farm regardless of ownership and that should a farmer not release cotton acres which he subsequently does not plant, then the farmer's acreage history would be hurt. "You can release the acres by March 4 without any adverse effect on the farm's history," Rowland said.

Released acreage is apportioned to other cotton farmers in the county. This is done by the county ASC committee. Jones County has been allotted approximately 106,000 acres of cotton this year, with this apportioned among 1800 growers.

It is something that happened — the gospel is the backdrop. The actors step into and out of characters which are historical with no necessary continuity between the various persons portrayed by one actor. They act as a chorus making contemporary comments as they relate the passion of Christ to the pace of the twentieth century life.

Through the medium of drama the impact of the passion becomes an experience through which an audience is urged to action — motivated by the gospel story geared to a twentieth century mind."

H-SU Players Will Present Drama for County Youth Rally

The Hardin-Simmons University players of Abilene will present their version of "Christ in the Concrete City," a religious drama based on the Twentieth Century concept of Christianity, for the Jones County Baptist Association Youth Rally to be held Sunday Mar. 1, at 2:30 p.m. in the Trinity Baptist Church in Stamford.

Rey. Jim Weathers, youth director for the association, and pastor of the Avoca Baptist Church, is in charge of the rally. He said that well over 5000 persons have already viewed the production as the players toured from Abilene to Washington, D. C. last summer.

"From the beginning God has interfered — the story is a drama of God gate-crashing the petty concerns of men . . .

It is something that happened — the gospel is the backdrop. The actors step into and out of characters which are historical with no necessary continuity between the various persons portrayed by one actor. They act as a chorus making contemporary comments as they relate the passion of Christ to the pace of the twentieth century life.

THE MINISTER SPEAKS—

'PLAYING WITH SIN'

by Rev. William Irwin
pastor, Central Avenue
Baptist Church

2 boys in New York city were returning home one day from a swim. They were both about fifteen years of age. Peter had picked up a piece of copper wire and had been along poking it at first one thing and then another. They crossed an old vacant lot to the New York Central Railway and began walking along the track. As they walked along Peter noticed the third rail with its wooden covering and thought he would have some fun. So he began poking his piece of wire at it. His friend told him he'd better be careful but Peter just laughed and kept on poking his piece of wire. At first nothing happened and then he pushed the wire under the wooden covering. There was a flash of light and a blue flame and shiek of pain as 11,000 volts of electricity shot through the wire. In a moment and less Peter's clothing were on fire and his hair and eyebrows were burned off. He tried to drop the wire as it hissed and sputtered at a white heat, but it wouldn't let go. He tried to pull away, but the wire stuck to the rail as if it had been welded there. His friend tried to pull him away and was thrown to the ground with a terrific shock. That brave young lad tried again and again to pull his friend to safety but Peter was stuck to that wire like he was grown to it. Then a man, railway worker, ran up and with rubber gloves

Live Better Electrically

This highway began to decay the day that it ceased to be used and repaired.

Deterioration sets in with the onset of neglect. When a nation's spiritual life is neglected there is a possibility that nation will not long endure. Let us strengthen our nation and our society by attending church regularly and reaffirming our faith in God.

"And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works: Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another, and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching." Hebrews 10:24, 25.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

The 'Best' Kind of Public Notice

By Dr. Charles L. Allen
Director, School of Journalism
Oklahoma State University

Variety and abundance are the distinguished virtues of a free economy such as we have in America. There are those who say we have too much, that goods and services come too easily today, and that such great choice spoils us. Yet who would trade today's America for any other country or for any other period in our history?

Every man thinks he knows what is "best." He builds the best house, drives the best car, eats the best breakfast cereal, goes to the best church, attends the best schools, is a patient of the best doctor, and a client the best lawyer in his town.

Comes now the expert on Public Notice who can tell you — whether or not he ever wrote, read, published, or was a party to one — exactly what constitutes the "best" kind of public notice. If all of these experts could but agree it would be a simple matter to settle all the problems of public notice, but their definitions of the best form of public notice are many, diverse, unclear and confusing.

Centuries ago, in the Greek and Roman era, notices had to be conveyed by word of mouth or by posting in the public square. Needless to say, neither of these methods was efficient.

To be sure, there are those today who say that the best way to give a person notice about anything is to meet him face to face and tell him yourself. Sometimes this personal mouth-to-ear method may be the best available, but the chances are 1,000 to 1 against it.

Consider first, how easy it is to make a mistake in delivering an oral message. And, secondly, how easily such a message can be misunderstood by the hearer. Think also how that message will be multiplied in the transmission from one person to another as it travels across the market place, or the back yard fence, to the ears of many others. Word of mouth is never relied upon when a better method can be found.

What about posting a notice in the "Public Square"? First, let us make an obvious observation: Today there is no "Public Square" in the same sense that life in America centered around the village square 50 or 25 years ago. Communications media, so abundant in our time, were scarce or prohibitively expensive in grandfather's day. Nobody needs to run to the village square to hear the news nowadays. It is brought to the businessman and his personnel in their office, and to the family in the comfort of their own home. On those rare occasions when the family does go down to the village square they are not there to get information. Parades, festivals, fairs and the like are not conducive to reading public notices.

Mighty few of our citizens, even in smaller towns and villages, spend any of their time around the "square" or even around the county courthouse or other public buildings. It is nonsense to think that posting a public notice in this rockeface will accomplish its intended purpose. An infinitely small part of the interested parties would see it — perhaps less than 1 per cent.

The "Offices of Intelligence," mentioned in the first article in this series, served an essential purpose in the 15th and 16th centuries. But, like the village square in early American life, the Offices of Intelligence were too cumbersome, too much bother and too slow in getting information to the people. They were superseded by printing and publications.

Newspapers were born because the life of the English people in the 17th century had become too complex for the existing outmoded means of communication. The Town Crier, the Village Square, the Office of Intelligence, the printed handbill and the occasional newsheet all had become inadequate as purveyors of public information.

Life in England in the mid-17th century was very rudimentary in deed, compared to life in America in this orbiting economy of today. Yet it was moving so fast, compared with earlier centuries, and the population was getting so big, that a new method of public notice simply had to be invented.

The answer to the acute problem of communications in that era was the newspaper. No one expected it then, but it took only a few short years — actually from 1665 to 1688 — for the newspaper to grow from the little two-page Oxford Gazette to the "Post" newspaper which flooded England and spread to Europe and America by 1700.

II

Seek the reasons why the newspaper has long been the free world's method of keeping people informed and they come upon you in a flood:

1. The people cannot be well and currently informed unless there is a publication which is issued with absolute regularity. In 1586 there was a thing that passed for a newsbook called Mercurio Gallo-Pelvius. Just how it could be called a newsbook is hard to see because it was published every two years. The regularity of the modern daily and weekly newspaper, however, presents continuous opportunity for the publishing of important legal notices. Nothing else is so dependable. (And remember, too, please, that the newspaperman must somehow scrape together the money to put out this paper every week or every day for 52 weeks of the year. All this to insure the availability of a public information medium when you need it.)

2. The people cannot be adequately served unless the medium in which notices are published has permanence. Matters of legal business, matters that affect the property, liberty and life of the people, cannot be written on the wind. There are numerous occasions when the parties to a legal action, lawyers and judges must be able to refer to a permanent record to prove that public notice was actually given on the dates provided in the law.

3. Proof of Publication. Public notice in a newspaper provides almost automatic proof of publication. Additional copies are supplied to lawyers and interested parties at little or no cost, and if greater quantities are required they can be obtained at little expense. Most newspapers maintain files of their back issues, or microfilms for ready reference or proof of publication.

4. The people cannot be informed unless the public notice is run in a medium that has good reader traffic. Many publications are subsidized by groups or associations and certain or religious or fraternal clubs only to a select membership. Obviously such publications do not pretend to be general nor to appeal to ordinary people. The newspaper, however, is read by most people day after day, and the reader traffic through the newspaper is both large and consistent. No one, to be sure, reads everything in any publication, but no other publication except the newspaper brings as many people together who can see a public notice if it interests them.

5. A good public notice me-interested in himself, his business, his family and his own affairs than in other people's.

This is why people read newspapers. The newspapers is the only communications medium which, day after day, tell about YOU, YOUR wife, YOUR children, YOUR schools, YOUR church, YOUR club, YOUR business, professional or industrial activities, and everything else that effects you.

The newspaper, come to think of it, is the only one of the major media that is always vitally concerned about you, your family, your friends and your business associates. It is certain to be read as long as its editor doesn't forget this inescapable journalistic fact: the newspaper's life depends upon a deep and continuing interest in the lives, activities and business affairs of its subscribers.

There can be no better place to put a public notice than in the medium that people turn to in order to read about themselves, their friends and their business.

12. The newspaper is the image of the town where it is published. It reveals the city council's plan for adding to the electric facilities, the progress in building a new school, the campaign to remodel and enlarge the municipal hospital, the purchase of a new fire truck — records the daily business transactions and each and every milestone in the history of your town.

This is another reason why people read the newspaper. And it is another reason why public notices will be read when they are published in the paper.

Lastly, let us reiterate the necessity for publishing public notices together, in a regular part of the newspaper, where they may be conveniently found, frequently referred to, and detached from the paper as required. It has often been said that people come to the classified ads because they are looking for something specific. This must be true, for the total income from classified ads in newspapers is often two or three times as much money as all revenue from national groups, easy to locate and easy to use every day. The "BEST" Public Notice medium is the newspaper, printed together, or in convenient

Ask him.

A two syllable word, "Mama," comes hard for Albert. He was born with a speech impediment. Once a week a speech therapist teaches, corrects and coaxes words out of him at an Easter Seal center. It's slow. Frustrating. But Albert brings home new words each week.

Some day he'll talk freely. Maybe teach a boy of his own to talk. Impossible though, without your help.

Ask her.

Your Easter Seal contribution is putting Janice on her feet. It helps buy expensive equipment to guide her steps, strengthen her legs, and ease her pain. Your contribution helps pay the therapist and other skilled personnel at your local Easter Seal chapter.

FAIRVIEW NEWS

BY MRS. ELMER JOINER

Winter weather is still with us, we had a nice snow last week, bringing more moisture. This Monday morning it looks like more weather might be in the making. From all reports spring will be welcomed this spring with open arms.

Several are on the sick list out our way. Mrs. Joe Ford has been having trouble with her back the past two weeks not being able to come to church and sit through services.

George Wainscott is in Dallas this week going through a series of tests, he is expected home early in the week if he doesn't have to stay for further treatment.

Ethel Allen, fourth grade teacher in Hamlin, is in the Stamford Hospital with a case of sinus and flu.

Mrs. Winson Gray returned home the last of the week from Houston, where she spent ten days with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Doyal Bills and two little daughters.

Melinda Wright has recovered from the chickenpox and was in church Sunday. It was erroneously reported last week that little brother Keenan also had chicken pox, but his time is coming yet. At least the kind Melinda had was a light case, not like some have been.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Henry went to Snyder Sunday to help their little grandson, John Henry, celebrate his second birthday.

Linda Goodwin went to the Methodist Church Thursday night to a banquet, this time as a guest of Susanne Wicker.

Mines, Carl Young, J. E. McCoy and Elmer Joiner attended council for H. D. clubs in Anson last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe R. Rosenbaum, Pampa, spent the weekend with relatives in the Hamlin vicinity, including her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rosenbaum.

Mrs. Tanner, Mrs. Leverett's mother, spent the weekend with them and visited in church Sunday. Her son Larry, was in San Antonio taking part in a tennis tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Johnson and sons, Amarillo, visited in Hamlin over the weekend Sunday, they, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Johnson, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Winson Gray.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ford got a call from Abilene, that some of their folks was seriously ill, and they went to see about them.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rhoton were Sunday afternoon visitors of Mrs. George Wainscott.

The study course will be continued Wednesday night, weather and sickness permitting, in the book Letter to the Ephesians. Attendance was small last week and we are hoping for more to be there this week.

by BOB CRAIG

Next Monday the Hamlin Public Schools will hold an open house in observance of the 14th annual Texas Public School Week. The teachers and the students have been working hard for some time now in an effort to make the evening one that will be worth the public's time.

If their work in the past is any indication of what they are doing this year it will be an impressive evening.

But I am afraid if all mother and dad do is to go up to the school and look at a little bit of their son's or daughter's work then go home and forget it for another year it will just be a lot of wasted time on the part of the teachers and students.

Education in this nation is at a crossroads today. A great effort is being made to come up with an educational program that will supply the scientists, engineers and other top people we will need in the coming years. But while this is necessary it only takes care of about a third of our pupils. What do you do with the student who do not have the mental ability to become engineers, scientists or professional people.

A good deal of improvement needs to be made in the opportunities that we offer to the middle group of students in any graduating class, but even more needs to be done for the lower third and those that don't even make it to graduation.

Every year it gets harder on the kids who fail to get a high school diploma. And even a high school diploma fails to offer much hope for a secure future to those who do not have an opportunity to continue their education beyond this level or do not have a chance to learn some type of skill.

Ben Neidecken, Anson attorney, speaking before the Hamlin Lions Club the other day on juvenile delinquency pointed out that the biggest danger of your dropouts is that they stay in the community while most of those who graduate go somewhere else to find their futures. This process has a lowering effect on the community and continues to increase the local welfare load.

A program of Distributive Education is being tried in many schools. This is a system whereby students who elect to take this route go to school a half day and work the other half in some trade or profession, getting school credit for their work.

The biggest problem with this is that it does not give the student a high school diploma that will get him into college if he were to decide later that he can and wants to go.

It also deprives the student of most of the extra curricular activities of the school that are part of the educational program.

Some system needs to be worked out whereby the student can get a high diploma and then attend some form of technical school.

It is obvious that Hamlin can not offer a school of this type alone because of the limited number of students there, therefore it would have to be on a county-wide or area-wide basis.

So when you go to school Monday and look over what your child has been doing try looking ahead and see what kind of a future you are going to offer him or her the day they finish high school.

Remembering that the experts predict that there will be more progress made in the scientific fields during the next ten years than has been made in the past 60 years.

STAGE BAND TAKES SECOND PLACE IN STATE COMPETITION

Last Friday, the Hamlin High School Stage Band won second place in AA competition at the Brownwood Stage Band Festival. Atlanta won third place or the Showman-third place for the Showman.

The Festival, a two day affair, was in its 13th year. Forty-three bands competed in AA, AA, AAA, and AAAA competition. The Brownwood Festival is considered by the nation's music educators to be not only the best competition in the state, but the best national contest also.

Hamlin competed against ten other AA bands, twice as many as the Canyon Festival. Bands from great distances participated, the farthest being: North Canadian, A; West, Midland, A; South, Sinton, A; East, Atlanta, AA.

Other winners were: Class A, 1st place, Jane Long Junior High School of Houston (had to enter in this class); 2nd, Midway of Waco; 3rd, Archer City, Class AAA, 1st place Snyder; 2nd, Phillips, 3rd, Sweetwater, Class AAAA, 1st place, Longview, 2nd, Arlington Heights of Fort Worth; 3rd, Kimball of Dallas.

Judges for the affair were: Dr. M. E. Hall, College of the Desert, California; Leon Bresden, North Texas State; Harry Rex, Sam Houston State; and Dr. Ted Crager, Texas Women's University.

Following the announcement of ratings in the Brownwood Coliseum at 7:30 Friday evening, the Houstonians, the stage band from Sam Houston State College presented a program.

Rowland explained that cotton allotment remained with the farm regardless of ownership and that should a farmer not release cotton acres which he subsequently does not plant, then the farmer's acreage history would be hurt. You can release the acres by March 4 without any adverse effect on the farm's history, Rowland said.

Parents making the trip were: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cagle; Mrs. Floyd Smith; Mrs. James Josey, Mr. and Mrs. Prentice Holland; Mrs. C. L. Howard; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Drummond; Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Reynolds, Jr.; Mrs. J. C. Turner; Mrs. Jack Townley; Mrs. Alvis Bond, Mrs. Nelson Shave and Mr. and Mrs. Ned Moore.

307 Producers in Jones County have Signed for Program

Jones County farmers are now signing up for the U.S. feed-grain program. Brad Rowland of Anson, head of the county ASC office said Monday. Through Thursday at quitting time, a total of 307 producers had signed contracts.

Under terms of the program in effect this year, farmers may agree to divert as much as 50 per cent of their total feed grain acreage and receive payment for the diverted contracts.

The payment, Rowland explained, is based on normal production on the land. There are about 1800 feed grain producers in the county. They have until March 27 to sign up.

Sharing honors for third place were: Mr. C. W. Willingham and John Diller of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yates of Stamford; Mr. and Mrs. Perry Seales; Mrs. M. L. Smith and Clifford Reynolds Jr.

THE MINISTER SPEAKS

'PLAYING WITH SIN'

by Rev. William Irwin
pastor, Central Avenue
Baptist Church

2 boys in New York city were returning home one day from a swim. They were both about fifteen years of age. Peter had picked up a piece of copper wire and had been along poking it at first one thing and then another. They crossed an old vacant lot to the New York Central Railway and began walking along the track. As they walked along Peter noticed the third rail with its wooden covering and thought he would have some fun. So he began poking his piece of wire at it. His friend told him he'd better be careful but Peter just laughed and kept on poking his piece of wire. At first nothing happened and then he pushed the wire under the wooden covering. There was a flash of light and a blue flame and a shock of pain as 11,000 volts of electricity shot through the wire. In a moment and less Peter's clothing were on fire and his hair and eyebrows were burned off. He tried to drop the wire as it hissed and sputtered at a white heat, but it wouldn't let go. He tried to pull away, but the wire stuck to the rail as if it had been welded there. His friend tried to pull him away and was thrown to the ground with a terrific shock. That brave young lad tried again and again to pull his friend to safety but Peter was stuck to that wire like he was grown to it. Then a man, railway worker, ran up and with rubber gloves was able to pull Peter from the wire. Peter started to run but he fainted and fell. They took him to the hospital where the doctor did the best he could but he finally said "It's out of my hands now, he has about one chance in a thousand to recover." Peter said "I knew there was something dangerous about the third rail, heard adults talking about it. But I didn't think it would hurt anything to play with it a little bit."

And friends . . . In just such a way SIN scorches and burns and kills just as that third rail. People KNOW it and STILL they play with it, thinking "It won't hurt anything to play with it a little bit." We, You and I, could receive knowledge from the words of our Lord as he told the story of the Prodigal Son. This young man did not INTEND to waste his life and money. He did not INTEND to find himself in the "Hog Pen" of sin. But there he was nonetheless. He thought he could "Play with it little bit, and it wouldn't hurt anything." Luke 15:11-23

This highway began to decay the day that it ceased to be used and repaired.

Deterioration sets in with the onset of neglect. When a nation's spiritual life is neglected there is a possibility that nation will not long endure. Let us strengthen our nation and our society by attending church regularly and reaffirming our faith in God.

"And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works: Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another, and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching." Hebrews 10:24, 25.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

OLD GLORY...

Old Glory Boys Capture
District Title

For the first time since 1917 Old Glory boys won the district 14-B championship. The district play-off took place last Friday night in the Knox City gym with Rochester. Both teams went into the play-off with a 7-1 record. At the end of the first quarter Old Glory had established a 4 point lead 14-10 by half time the lead was 23-16, and at the third quarter the score was 39-30. During the last few seconds of the game Rochester moved up making the final score 47-45.

The early game shooting and last minute ball handling of freshman Larry Flow helped the pirates fight off a last minute home in bed.

This puts the pirates into a bi-district playoff with the Knox City Greyhounds. The game being played Tuesday, Feb. 25 in the Haskell High School Gym.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Spitzer, accompanied by her mother Mrs. W. G. Winken, and an uncle, Hugo Klump of Bartlett, visited in Lubbock last weekend with Mrs. Winken who is recovering from an operation. They reported that Mr. Winken is getting along satisfactorily.

Seniors Charles Diers and Donald Boles both hit 12 points to help bring the team to victory. Also helping were Junior Stanley Diers and sophomores Danny Lammert and Marvin Vahlenkamp. Jerry Hahn one of the pirates leading scorers with 22 point per game average didn't see any action, due to illness which left him at Judy White is the scorekeeper for both girls and boys teams.

Even though Old Glory girls were defeated for district title they are to be congratulated for doing some very fine ball playing this year.

Visiting in the home of Mrs. Katie Gerloff last weekend were her sons and wives, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gerloff of Lubbock, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gerloff.

Mrs. Adelle Duddensing has returned home after spending several days with her daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. Charles Godard and children in Abilene.

The 'Best' Kind of Public Notice

By Dr. Charles L. Allen
Director, School of Journalism
Oklahoma State University

Variety and abundance are the distinguished virtues of a free economy such as we have in America. There are those who say we have too much, that goods and services come too easily today, and that such great choice spoils us. Yet who would trade today's America for any other country or for any other period in our history?

Every man thinks he knows what is "best." He builds the best house, drives the best car, eats the best breakfast cereal, goes to the best church, attends the best schools, is a patient of the best doctor, and a client the best lawyer in his town.

Comes now the expert on Public Notice who can tell you — whether or not he ever wrote, read, published, or was a party to one — exactly what constitutes the "best" kind of public notice. If all of these experts could but agree it would be a simple matter to settle all the problems of public notice, but their definitions of the best form of public notice are many, diverse, unclear and confusing.

Centuries ago, in the Greek and Roman era, notices had to be conveyed by word of mouth or by posting in the public square. Needless to say, neither of these methods was efficient.

To be sure, there are those today who say that the best way to give a person notice about anything is to meet him face to face and tell him yourself. Sometimes this personal mouth-to-ear method may be the best available, but the chances are 1,000 to 1 against it.

Consider first, how easy it is to make a mistake in delivering an oral message. And, secondly, how easily such a message can be misunderstood by the hearer. Think also how that message will be multiplied in the transmission from one person to another as it travels across the market place, or the back yard fence, to the ears of many others. Word of mouth is never relied upon when a better method can be found.

What about posting a notice in the "Public Square"? First, let us make an obvious observation: Today there is no "Public Square" in the same sense that life in America centered around the village square 50 or 25 years ago. Communications media, so abundant in our time, were scarce or prohibitively expensive in grandfather's day. Nobody needs to run to the village square to hear the news nowadays. It is brought to the businessman and his personnel in their office, and to the family in the comfort of their own home. On those rare occasions when the family does go down to the village square they are not there to get information. Parades, festivals, fairs and the like are not conducive to reading public notices.

Very few of our citizens, even in smaller towns and villages, spend any of their time around the "square" or even around the county courthouse or other public buildings. It is nonsense to think that posting a public notice in this rocket age will accomplish its intended purpose. An infinitely small part of the interested parties would see it — perhaps less than 1 per cent.

The "Offices of Intelligence," mentioned in the first article in this series, served an essential purpose in the 15th and 16th centuries. But, like the village square in early American life, the Offices of Intelligence were too cumbersome, too much bother and too slow in getting information to the people. They were superseded by printing and publications.

Newspapers were born because the life of the English people in the 17th century had become too complex for the existing outmoded means of communication. The Town Crier, the Village Square, the Office of Intelligence, the printed handbill and the occasional newsheet all had become inadequate as purveyors of public information.

Life in England in the mid-17th century was very rudimentary in deed, compared to

interested in himself, his business, his family and his own affairs than in other people's.

This is why people read newspapers. The newspapers is the only communications medium which, day after day, tell about YOU, YOUR wife, YOUR children, YOUR schools, YOUR church, YOUR club, YOUR business, professional or industrial activities, and everything else that effects you.

The newspaper, come to think of it, is the only one of the major media that is always vitally concerned about you, your family, your friends and your business associates. It is certain to be read as long as its editor doesn't forget this inescapable journalistic fact: the newspaper's life depends upon a deep and continuing interest in the lives, activities and business affairs of its subscribers.

There can be no better place to put a public notice than in the medium that people turn to in order to read about themselves, their friends and their business.

12. The newspaper is the image of the town where it is published. It records the city council's plan for adding to the electric facilities, the progress in building a new school, the campaign to remodel and enlarge the municipal hospital, the purchase of a new fire truck — it records the daily business transactions and each and every milestone in the history of your town.

This is another reason why

people read the newspaper. And it is another reason why public notices will be read when they are published in the paper.

We could go on. There are many more reasons why the newspaper is the best medium for public notices, and why people turn to the newspaper so many times every day every week. The newspaper has become a great American institution because it records, with fidelity, every aspect of American life.

Lastly, let us reiterate the necessity for publishing public notices together, in a regular part of the newspaper, where they may be conveniently found, frequently referred to, and detached from the paper as required. It has often been said that people come to the classified ads because they are looking for something specific. This must be true, for the total income from classified ads in newspapers is often two or three times as much money as all revenue from national groups, easy to locate and easy to use every day. The "BEST" Public Notice medium is the newspaper. (Continued next month)

who needs them?

Ask him.

A two syllable word, "Mama," comes hard for Albert. He was born with a speech impediment. Once a week a speech therapist teaches, corrects and coaxes words out of him at an Easter Seal center. It's slow. Frustrating. But Albert brings home new words each week.

Some day he'll talk freely. Maybe teach a boy of his own to talk. Impossible though, without your help.

Ask her.

Your Easter Seal contribution is putting Janice on her feet. It helps buy expensive equipment to guide her steps, strengthen her legs, and ease her pain. Your contribution helps pay the therapist and other skilled personnel at your local Easter Seal chapter.

Your money buys happiness. And a miracle. Janice is learning to walk. Because you took the first step—a gift to Easter Seals.

When you start adding up the deductions on page 2 of your 1040 federal income tax form, don't forget state gasoline taxes. Do a little adding up and you'll be surprised at how much you paid during the past year.

State gasoline taxes range from 5 cents a gallon in Texas, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois and Hawaii up to 8 cents in Alaska. These, of course, are added on to the 4-cents-a-gallon federal tax which is not deductible.

A motorist who drives 10,000 miles in a year and who gets 15 miles to the gallon on his car, pays between $60 to $80 in gasoline taxes. More than half of this is paid in state taxes which are deductible. As long as you pay them, you might as well deduct them.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — Congressional redistricting is the prime topic of conversation at the state capitol.

U. S. Supreme Court shook up officials with a landmark ruling in Georgia's apportionment case. Court proclaimed that congressional districts must be as nearly equal in population as is feasible. On October 19 a federal court in Houston held essentially the same thing in a Texas case. It declared that unless the state Legislature straightens out present unequal districts immediately, all Texas congressmen must run at large (statewide).

Texas congressmen themselves launched plans for special federal legislation to preserve present districts until the regular legislative session in 1965.

Governor Connally has made clear that if the Supreme Court affirms the Houston court ruling, he will call a special session immediately to try and bring some order out of the "indescribable chaos" referred to in Carr's brief.

Whether the Legislature would pass a suitable redistricting bill in a special session is a serious question.

Redistricting issue definitely is going to figure in the governor's race. Connally already has been criticised for not calling the legislators in to work on the problem months ago. Issue also will be raised in some district contests as challengers charge incumbent legislators with failure to handle the matter in the regular session last year.

These principal developments followed the Georgia case decision:

1. Attorney General Waggoner Carr filed a new brief asking a full hearing of the Texas appeal. He argued that "indescribable chaos and confusion" would result from statewide election of congressmen this year.

2. Gov. John Connally re-quesied a study of redistricting by Texas Legislative Council. Such a study would necessarily include drafting of model bills. (Equal population for Texas' 23 districts would call for 416,000 in each.)

ary, 1964, the number of Texas women aged 21 and over was estimated to be a little more than 3,000,000, while their male counterparts were estimated to number less than 3,000,000.

FREE VOTER REGISTRATION CONTINUES — Registration of voters who want to qualify for free votes in federal elections will continue through March 7. County tax collectors are issuing the free receipts which may be obtained by direct personal application.

Holders of the free registrations cannot vote in state or local races, in constitutional amendment or bond elections — only for president, vice president, U.S. senator, U.S. representative and congressman-at-large.

State attorneys emphasize, however, that the free registration receipts are good for primary elections, the November general election and any special election involving federal offices during the coming year. In other words, those who have them can vote in their party primary for senator, congressman and congressman-at-large or in any special election for these offices, as well as the general election.

Voters over 60 in cities of 10,000 or more population who did not get their poll tax exemptions before January 31 deadline cannot qualify for special registration. Over-age voters in smaller cities need no certificate of any kind.

RECORD VOTE/PREDICTED — Although the official compilation of poll tax payments and exemption certificates is not due from State Comptroller Robert Calvert until the first of April, many county tax assessor-collectors have stated they expect the number of qualified voters to exceed 1960's 2,594,000.

This prediction does not take into account registrations of those voters who cast ballots in federal races only. Registration for federal certificates seems to be going slow, but poll tax registration also ran slow until the last week in January.

A statement by Pat O'Keefe, executive director of the State Democratic Committee, indicated that interest in voter registration seems lightest in rural areas.

Republican party officials have not hazarded a guess on the score, but are hoping to get 300,000 Texans to cast ballots in their May 2 Primary. Total of 1962 GOP primary participants was 135,000.

EMPLOYMENT — Statistics just released by the Texas Employment Commission show that the employment figure for December was a record high for non-farm employees . . . 3,305,600 . . . an increase of 26,500 over November.

This was 67,600 above the jobholder total for December, 1962.

POPULATION PICTURE — Although the State Health Department reported an "uninterrupted decline" in the Texas birth rate per 1,000 population between 1956 and 1962, the state's population continues to rise.

Births in 1962 totaled 244,639. New settlers moving in from other states accounted for a 200,000 increase, helping to make the population pass the 10 million mark last year. But at the same time the number of deaths for one year reached an all-time high of 81,118.

Heart disease was the leading cause of death, accounting for 33 percent; cancer was second with 15 per cent; apoplexy, third with 12 per cent of the deaths; and accidents of all kinds, fourth with seven per cent.

Rhinestones are so named because they were first made along the Rhine River in Germany by Joseph Strasser.
